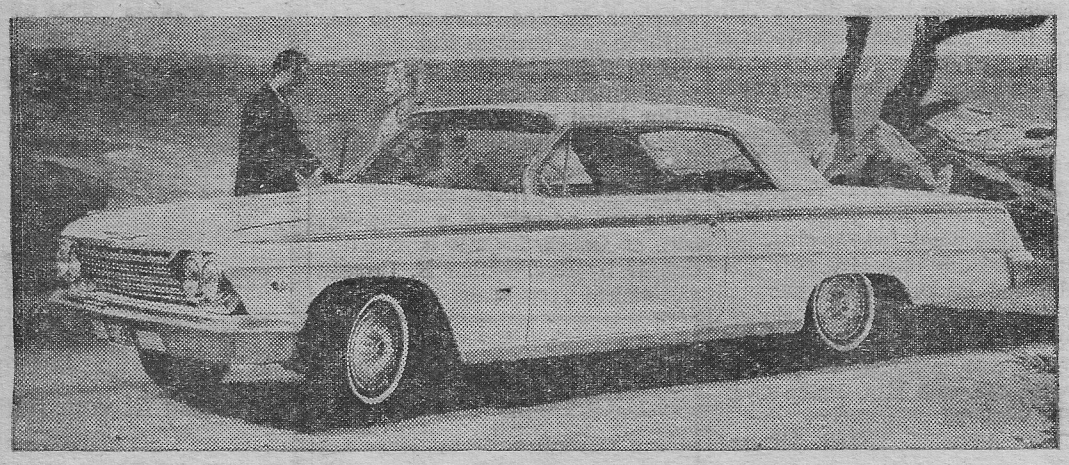
J. Booker President For Second Term



A ROOFLINE that looks amazingly like that of a soft-top convertible is a striking feature of the 1962 Chevrolet Impala Sports Coupe shown here. The new Chevrolet is extensively restyled and features a lighter weight Powerglide automatic transmission with the optional 327 cu. in. V-8 engine.

Year's Activities Noted In Report At Home, School Association Meeting

LAC LA BICHE — At the Lac la Biche Home and School Association annual meeting held recently with 56 persons present and J. Booker in the chair, election of officers returned Mr. Booker as President for his second term. F. Creighton was appointed chairman during the election of new officers.

The nominating committee had worked hard to procure a new slate of officers and with the addition of Mrs. Fred Strochak to the program planning committee, the entire slate was adopted. Officers for the year are as follows: president, J. Booker, for his second term; vice-president, E. Shanks; secretary, Mrs. S. J. Clarke; treasurer, L. Vincent; program planning committee, Mrs. J. Booker, Mrs. G. Bissette, W. Sachko, Mrs. F. Strochak; hospitality committee, Mrs. A. Gatzke, Mrs. H. Marchildon, Mrs. L. Bartman, Mrs. W. Tardif; publications, Mrs. S. Hamar.

Mr. Creighton conducted the installation ceremony for the incoming officers.

L. Shewchuk was appointed Home & School representative on the skating rink committee. A motion was passed to make a donation of $50 to the skating rink early in the new year.

Secretary Mrs. F. W. McMillan, in giving the annual report, noted that average attendance at meetings throughout the year had averaged 45, with a paid up membership of 27.

Two scholarships had been awarded to Richard Hayduk, Grade 10 student, and Anita Senetza, Grade 11 student.

The mothers of the Grade 11 students had assisted with the graduation banquet in May.

A rundown of meetings held throughout the year revealed that the evenings had been varied, educational and interesting. In November a panel discussion with members and teachers participating had been held. In January Mrs. R. Middleton, Redwater, regional director, Home and School Association was guest speaker. J. McNabb of the department of lands and forests was speaker for February.

In March a reading class was conducted by two of the primary teachers and pupils proving just how quickly and skillfully children learn to read from the present methods. In April Mr. Pierce of the vocational guidance department of the University was guest speaker. In May Richard Hayduk, Grade 11 student who had attended the Red Cross water safety classes in Edmonton at Easter, gave a demonstration of artificial respiration and told of the course.

The September meeting took the form of a "get acquainted" meeting with addresses by the new superintendent, E. Torgunrud, High School principal F. W. McMillan and Elementary school principal E. Makawich. Whist was also enjoyed at this meeting.

The treasurer's report, given by L. Shewchuk, noted that apart from the $90 in the water safety fund, the organization is rather low on funds but some means will be attempted to raise funds in the new year.

Mr. Shewchuk gave a complete report on the Learn to Swim campaign, which unfortunately had to be cancelled for this year.

President Booker, in his report, thanked the executive and all members for their splendid co-operation through the year.

Miss Walch won the banner for parental attendance at the meeting.

The formation of a school patrol was discussed and a motion passed that the highway traffic board, the town constable and school author-

Water And Sewer Main Contract Let To B. Troyer Of Smoky Lake

LAC LA BICHE — Bert Troyer of Smoky Lake has the contract to trench and backfill for three separate extensions of water and sewer mains involving about 1,940 feet of trench.

The project will include a sewer line to the curling rink, a water line to the new forestry buildings in the south part of town and both water and sewer mains to the location where the new school is to be built.

Work on the project, under the direction of the town foreman, Hervey Marchildon, has been moving along satisfactorily, even though a foot of frost was encountered in place where traffic has been heavy.

The water extension to the forestry site will slow down traffic to one lane, as the line follows the course of the road across the railway tracks. Some inconvenience to the travelling public is unavoidable while the trench is being dug and it may even be necessary to close the road entirely for a short period of time. However, the crossing of the railway tracks with the water line is an important step in the town's development and may be the harbinger of better things for the south part of town.

WHISKY FROM SPAIN

EDINBURGH — Scotland's national pride has been struck a terrible blow. A Spanish company plans to market scotch whisky at a third the price it costs in Britain. The whisky is maturing in caves near Madrid in casks imported from Scotland. The Scots, while admitting it tastes the same as their own product, suggest it should be called "scotch-type" whisky.

McMurray Council Orders Gravel To Prevent Flooding

McMurray town council will order three or four loads of gravel to be hauled to the propane plant. Mr. Driver told them at a council meeting on Oct. 12 that the road to the propane plant was not properly repaired.

It will be flooded again next spring, he said. He wanted to have something done about it.

It would only take three of four loads of gravel to improve this road so that it would be passable in the spring, said Mr. Driver.

Present at the meeting were: Mayor Wagner, Councillors Bussieres, Cockrane, McKinnon and Wylie: Councillor Anderson was absent. K. Driver, a guest, was also present.

The minutes of the previous meeting held on Sept. 27 were read to the council by the secretary-treasurer and were adopted as read. The mayor and secretary-treasurer then signed and sealed the minutes of this meeting.

The monthly statement for September was read to the council by the secretary-treasurer and was accepted. The mayor and secretary-treasurer then signed the monthly statement.

Mr. Driver stated that he would like to know who gave permission to move Mrs. Logan into Mr. Pukalo's house as he is responsible for it and was in Edmonton at the time. The council advised that she was moved into it before any of them knew about it. Mr. Driver stated that he was under the impression that it would be only for a few days until her house was fixed but it has now been about three weeks and she is still in it. He also wanted to know who was going to pay for the rent. He was advised that the town would be responsible for it. He then advised the council that he would only charge $20 per month for the time she was in the house.

Mr. Driver advised that the culvert promised about three years ago has not been put in. Councillor Bussieres advised that Mr. Driver was right in stating that the culvert had been okayed and one should be put in as soon as possible.

The possibility of finding a new location for the nuisance ground was discussed and it was decided that the council would meet on Thursday, Oct. 12 at 2:00 p.m. for the purpose of finding a suitable location for the nuisance ground along the airport road.

The secretary-treasurer advised that the sand box for the airport hill is to be replaced.

The storage tank question was left in abeyance.

It was stated that since the plans for the location of the skating rink in the community center had not been received and it is now getting late in the season, something should be done about having the rink moved without the plans.

The recreation committee have authority to draw up the necessary plans for the location of the skating rink.

The minutes of the meeting of the recreation committee were presented to the council with recommndations on what should be done at the community center.

The recreation committee's minutes will be incorporated into the minutes of the town council.

The committee have authority to do what they can in having the rink moved to the center.

A letter will be written to Mr. Dant advising him that the council and recreation committee have decided to move the skating rink to the center and plans will be forwarded giving the location of the skating rink.

A request was received from Poole Construction asking the council for permission to store their equipment on town property.

Poole Construction were given authority to store their equipment in or upon town property at their own risk.

The secretary-treasurer was instructed to write a letter to Poole Construction advising them of the above motion.

A tray will be ordered for the assessment and tax roll.

The secretary-treasurer read the medical health officer's report for September and it was accepted.

A letter was received from the Department of Highways in answer to our request for the proper location of the "Walk on Left Facing Traffic" signs. They advised that the signs are to be placed on the right hand side of the road.

A letter was received from Becker and Weeks advising that they are going ahead with the case against Donald Gallagher. They also advised that they are again going to write to McInnes Products to find out what their position is now.

A letter was received from Becker and Weeks, advising that to date they have collected $120 from Mr. Tralenburg who has faithfully kept up his payments of $10 per week. They advised that they have received a letter from Mr. Tralenburg stating that his seasonal employment has been suspended and it will be difficult for him to make payments until he receives other work.

Becker, Weeks et al will be advised that it will be satisfactory with the council for Mr. Tralenburg

THE Homemaker

Beautiful new fabrics are making their debut on fabric counters all over the country this fall. Available for home sewers now are—laminates double-knits, deep-pile fabrics, stretch fabrices (to be coming in yet this year) gauzy woolens, jacquard weaves, tapestry woven stripes in wools and cottons, etc. etc. They are lovely and, if properly used for the right garment, they can be an interesting addition to any woman's wardrobe.

B. McCutcheon

LAMINATED FABRICS

A "laminated fabric is any fabric with a backing of synthetic foam. The foam is composed of microporous cells that trap air and thereby insulate. The foam is bonded (or heatfused) permanently to the outerfabric.

Two-types of foam-backs are being manufactured—the single laminate, which has fabric on one side of the foam, and the double laminate. The double has fabric on both sides of the foam and is sometimes referred to as a "foam sandwich". Laminated fabrics can be either washed or drycleaned, depending on the outer fabric.

As those fabrics do not drape and handle as other fabrics do, the pattern must be simple in design with as few seams and extra details as possible.

Cut the laminated fabric with the right sides up so that the grain line is visible at all times. It is also easier to pin from the fabric side rather than from the foam side. Because of the soft bulkiness of the fabric, the tissue pattern has a tendency to tear when cutting pattern and fabric together. To avoid this, trim away excess tissue before laying out the pattern; with the pattern trimmed right to the sutting line, you cut along pattern tissue instead of through it.

Marking darts and the like can be done with a tracing wheel and carbon. However, because of the "springy" nature of foam, it often proves to be more satisfactory to insert pins straight down into the fabric along the stitch line. The pattern is then removed, leaving the pins in the fabric to serve as a guide for marking with tailor's chalk.

When it comes to stitching, use a longer stitch (apporximately 10 stitches to the inch) and looser tension than normal. Also loosen the pressure on the presser foot. To keep the foam from sticking under the presser foot when stitching on the wrong side, place tissue paper next to the foam. Stitch through tissue and fabric and tear tissue away after stitching. It is a help if a walking presser foot is available.

For pressing, darts should be slashed and pressed open. Steam pressed open. Steam pressing is most effective. The use of a press cloth will insure that the heated iron will never touch the foam. Grade seam allowances on all foam laminated fabrics to eliminate bulk. Since it may be difficult to press faced edges flat, top stitch through all thicknesses ¼ to ½ inch from the edge for a flat, neat appearance.

ties be contacted in view of forming such a patrol.

In closing the business session, the president thanked the outgoing executive for its fine co-operation in the past year.

W. A. Tymchuk, field secretary for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, northern Alberta division, and a companion were present. Following the business meeting, Mr. Tymchuk gave an interesting talk on the purpose and work of the CNIB. Mr. Tymchuk, who himself lost his sight some 4½ years ago in a slight accident, stated that every day in Canada five people become blind, half of these cases due to carelessness. There are to date some 1,495 blind persons in Alberta.

The CNIB was formed in 1918 to help overcome and to prevent blindness. While the organization helps blind persons in many ways, a person has to be pronounced legally blind on the examination of a qualified doctor to be eligible for assistance from CNIB.

Mr. Tymchuk described the Jericho Hills School for the Blind in Vancouver, started two years ago to care for blind persons in western Canada. The School for the Blind in Brantford, Ont., previously cared for all the persons needing training and treatment all across Canada.

Music and the languages are the main subjects taught in these schools along with great emphasis on various crafts. Education is by the use of Braille and magnetic tapes. The crafts such as basket weaving, knitting and crocheting, are taught to develope sensitivity in the fingers. The residents of the schools are also taught to travel with the use of a white cane.

A number of guide dogs are also used by the totally blind. Mr. Tymchuk mentioned the case of Mrs. Pat Turnball and her seeing-eye dog Shelley. Mrs. Turnball lost her sight as a child in an accident on a school playground.

She has attended Brantford School for the Blind, is an accomplished pianist and recently learned to operate a switchboard and is employed at the University of Alberta. Mrs. Turnball has travelled extensively and lives a happy and useful life.

Mr. Tymchuk also told of a couple of blind young ladies who have been trained as dictaphone typists, one being employed by the federal department of welfare. These girls do their work as well as any person with sight, knowing if they do not measure up they will be dismissed.

The speaker described the Talking Book, which is simply a book transcribed onto relords. He stated that CNIB has some 3,000 titles to choose from on many and various subjects, from fiction to history, religion, etc. These are in great demand, especially for elderly persons.

He also described the different forms of recreation there are for the blind and told of the five-pin bowling alley for the blind in Edmonton that provides many afternoons and evenings of fun and relaxation. There are also checkers, card games and many special appliances to aid the blind in carrying on normal lives.

Mr. Tymchuk warned of the need of protecting children at play from the use of pointed sticks, sling shots, BB guns and other dangerous toys, for these have been the cause of many children losing their sight.

A CNIB film was shown showing how a young mother's pride and reluctance to see any imperfection in her baby son, nearly caused the child to have defective eyesight for life.

Coffee and doughnuts served by the hospitality committee concluded an interesting evening.

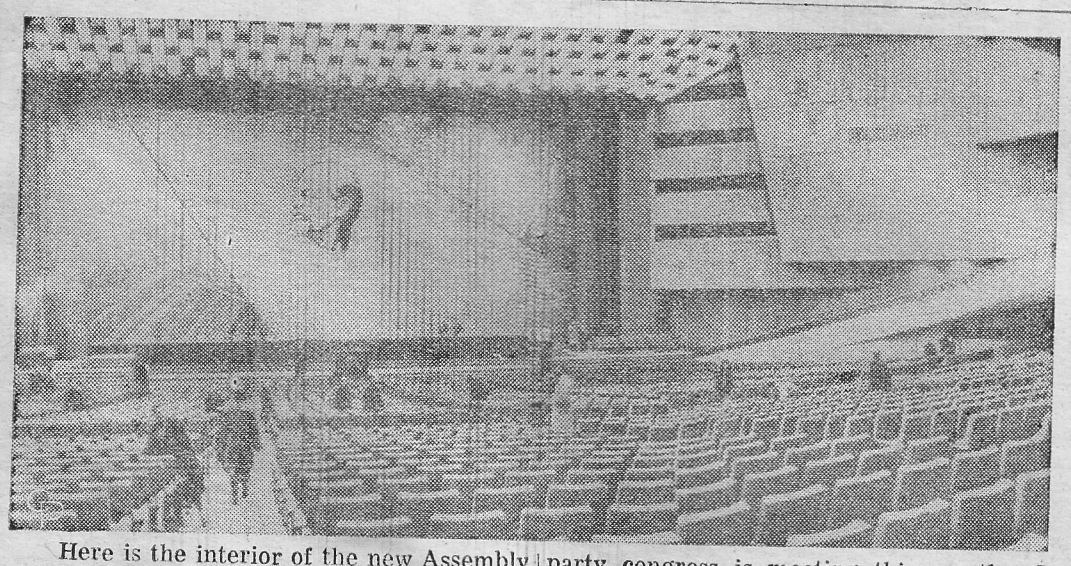
Vegreville Has Disaster Exercise



Here is the interior of the new Assembly hall in Moscow, where the 22nd Communist party congress is meeting this month. It seats 6,000 Red heads.

Mythical Tornado Strikes Hall Causing 30 Student Casualties

VEGREVILLE — The town of Vegreville staged a disaster exercise on October 18. The exercise involved all hospital employees, the RCMP staff, students from the Vegreville public high school and from the St. Martin's school, the Boy Scouts, Civil Defence Director, and various citizens of the town who owned station wagons, as well as make-up mersonal from Edmonton.

About 30 students, acting as the casualities met at the Armouries at 9 a.m. Here they were made up by the experts to look as if they had been involved in a disaster.

The disaster happened at the Lavoy Community Hall, about eight miles east of Vegreville on Highway 16.

A sudden tornado-like wind struck the hall causing the building to collapse, injuring some thirty children who had attend a special feature showing there at the time.

Immediately after the incident was reported to have happened the Vegreville police and ambulance services were notified.

The RCMP notified the local Civil Defence authorities and the fire department. The Civil Defence Director notified the Medical Director, of St. Joseph's General Hospital in Vegreville, and asked him to mobilise all necessary services to handle the disaster victims.

The hospital Civil Defence Medical Director, and the hospital administrator declared a state of emergency within the hospital, and implemented the hospital disaster plan.

A number of patients were evacuated to St. Martin' School auditorium, thus providing reception space in the hospital for approximately thirty casualties.

At about 1:35 the patients on stretchers and some walking with aid were brought into the hospital by the station wagons and carried in by the volunteer stretcher bearers. They were met at the back entrance where the hospital staff were ready to handle their cases.

Each victim was given a card which stated to which ward he was to be taken to depending on the extend of his injury. The patients suffered from fractures, burns to various parts of the body, lacerations, amputations, punctured stomachs and any other imaginable thing.

Upon reaching the ward were they were to be cared for they were treated according to their wounds, some receiving only first aid, others being send into surgery.

At the finish of the exercise, the victims as well as the visitors and personal gathered in the nurses residence where they were served a light lunch and heard the comments of those on charge.

The Specific objective of this exercise were to, test St. Josephs Hospital disaster plan; to test Co-operation between the local C.D. organization and the hospital in exercising the plan. To test all local C.D. Services under emergency conditions, and to study problems which may arise in implementing the hospital disaster plan, and problems the local C.D. Services may encounter.

The exercise also had some General aims of the operation such as, to rescue disaster victims and under first aid; to test the evacuation of patients from the hospital to the school auditorium, to test transportation of disaster victims to the hospital and to test reception arrangements at the hospital for disaster victims.

At a latter date the outcome of the exercise on a whole will be discussed to a further extent as to its efficency.

Most family men know that this is the time of year when their better halves require new outfits.

Fish And Game To Sponsor New Search For Talent Show

The Willingdon Fish and Game Association has undertaken sponsorship of the ACT-CFRN Search for Talent Show on Nov. 25, according to Camille Ethier. Mr. Ethier is acting as liaison between the Associated Canadian Travellers of Edmonton and the Fish and Game Association in the preparations for the show.

In announcing the coming of Search for Talent to Willingdon Mr. Ethier stated that this year's version of the show has several added features and special attractions. A former winner of a talent show in the area is being invited to appear as a guest artist. Spotlight Parade is a different and livelier show, and several special awards will add considerably to the show, Mr. Ethier stated.

Winner of the Willingdon Search for Talent was Elaine Iftody, with Phyllis Shandro coming second and Jerry Kushneriek of Hairy Hill third. Winners will be declared by adjudication, same as last year.

Spotlight Parade will feature Johnny Forrest, Scottish entertainer; Maureen McGrath, comedienne and vocalist; Molly Kvittem, pianist and accordionist; Johnny Kerr, recently arrived from the night clubs of Toronto, Montreal and New York; and George Lund, well-known to CFRN-TV audiences. Jack Benbow, stage director of CFRN-TV is once again managing director of the entire show.

Entries are being accepted by Mr. Ethier at Boychuk Motors. He urges that contestants enter early as the limit is 20. He pointed out however, that late comers will be registered and the ACT office will attempt to place them on another show nearby. If this is not possible they will be placed on the priority list for next season, Mr. Ethier stated.

Show will be held at the Willingdon School auditorium commencing at 7:30. Contestants are asked to be on hand at four o'clock.

Smoky Lake Farmer Claims 121 Whoopers Sighted

William Mandzuk, a farmer at Smoky Lake, claims he has seen whooping cranes on two separate occasions this month. While the Canadian Audubon Society reports that there are only 40 such birds in existence today, Mr. Mandzuk contradicts this by saying that he has spotted 121 whoopers in two sightings.

Mr. Mandzuk says that on Oct. 17 there were two flocks of whoopers flying south, south-east over his farm fields. The flights took place an hour apart. There were 14 birds in the first flock and 47 in the second, the former at 4 p.m. and the latter at 5 p.m. He said the birds flew so low they could be counted.

On Sunday, Oct. 22 at 12:15 noon, Mr. Mandzuk said he had a chance to count the birds twice. His tally: 60.

The Canadian Audubon Society has frequently warned hunters to co-operate in not shooting any large birds that just might be a whooper. They pass over Alberta from Wood Buffalo Park in the Northwest Territories as they migrate to Texas.

Braised Short Ribs of Beef

For a delicious meal all in one dish we suggest Braised Short Ribs of Beef. A real timesaver for the homemaker on those days when there just aren't enough hours in the day.

4 to 4½ lbs. short ribs of beef
Fat for sauteing
2 tbsps. butter or other fat
1 medium sized onion, chopped
2 carrots, sliced
2 tbsps. chopped parsley
¼ cup fresh celery leaves
Salt and pepper
1 No. 2½ tin (3 cups) canned tomatoes

Brown the meat in a hot frying pan with the fat or drippings. Stir so it will brown quickly and not lose juices. Remove meat to a closely covered kettle that can be used either on top of the range or in the oven. Rinse the pan with ¼ cup boiling water to save all browned bits, and pour this over the meat. Cover tightly and cook slowly for 2 hours.

FOR THE SAUCE:

Melt the butter or other fat and brown the onion and carrot in it. Add parsley, celery leaves and tomatoes. Heat thoroughly. Add seasonings. Pour the sauce over the meat and continue cooking for another half hour or until vegetables are tender. The sauce may be slightly thickened with flour if desired. Home Service Department, Northwestern Utilities, Limited.
